Pantomime—Villkins and His Dinah.

milkmaid, (3) The nun, (4) What the Daisy lived to see, (5) Maud Muller, (6) The Egyptian Girl.
Part Song—The mice in council.

Excited.

The Police Court room, behind the bar, was literally piled full this morning, with a dense mass of excited spectators assembled to get a sight of Chun Hook, who was expected to be up for attempting to escape the effects of former sentences. Chun was there, but was not put on trial, as some of the preliminaries were not fixed, and the authorities are in no hurry about the matter.

An Islander Abroad.

The New York Mirror, of December the 4th, has the following of interest here, as Mr. C. B. Poor is brother to Mr. H. F. Poor, manager of the Postal Savings Bank, and at present attached to the Hawaiian Commission to Samoa, on six months' leave of absence from the Post Office.

The Mirror has received the wedding-cards of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Poor. The couple were married at the Briggs House, Chicago, just a week ago. Maud Harris, the bride, was a member of the Under the Gaslight company, playing Peach-blossom. She is now playing Shakespeare Jarvis in Litt's Lights o' London company. Husband and wife are members of the same company.

CHRISTMAS TREES.

THE MISSION SCHOOL, FOWLER'S YARD.

The young people of the Mission School, Fowler's yard, assembled in the lecture room of Fort street Church on Christmas Eve, where exercises of a very interesting character were gone through by the school, followed by a liberal distribution of dolls, toys, candies and other gifts to the young people. A well-arranged Christmas tree had been erected on the platform, and presented a somewhat unique appearance with its various fruits and its base surrounded by a large array of dolls of various sizes. The school numbered about 40, most of the children being Swedes and Norwegians whose invariably white hair and faces were particularly noticeable. The exercises were conducted by Miss Abbie Johnson, superintendent of the school; Miss Fillebrowne presided at the piano and Mrs. Simpson, Miss Mary Kusiang (Chinese) and members of the society of Christian endeavor of Fort street Church assisted in carrying out all arrangements. The means for getting up the tree and loading it were also provided by the society of Christian endeavor. Scripture recitations, Christmas songs and dialogues by the school, took up the time for about an hour, after which Santa Claus, with tooting horn, snow covered coat and immense gray whiskers, rushed in and the distribution of presents came next in order. This being attended to, refreshments were served, and this little "merric making" came to a close.

CHINESE SCHOOLS.

The Chinese Mission Schools' Christmas festival took place in the hall of the Chinese Y. M. C. A. The preliminary arrangements and the programme of the evening were under the direction of Mr. F. W.
Damon, assisted by the Chinese pastor, Mrs. Simpson and others. A magnificent tree spread itself over the platform, and reached thence to the ceiling. A New England lady, recently arrived, pronounced it the finest Christmas tree she had ever seen. The school children were arranged, boys on one side and girls on the other, to the right and left in front. The muster of juvenile Mongolians seemed to be about double of the number present on the corresponding occasion, last year.
The boys and girls had, over them, their respective silken banners bearing Christian mottoes in the Chinese character. Recitations, dialogues, Christmas songs, and addresses by Mr. Damon and the Chinese pastor, were given, alternately in English and Chinese. The facility with which the infantile Chinese expressed their pieces in English was a remarkable feature of the exercises, some of the learners not having commenced English until about July last. The presentation of gifts occupied considerable time, as the list was a very long one. The exercises were all of a singularly interesting nature, both in themselves and in the reflections which could not but be associated with them. The hall was crowded by adult spectators both Mongolian and Caucasian. A number of recently arrived tourists from the United States were among the spectators, and expressed themselves intensely interested, if not astounded by the exhibition. Mr.
Damon and his co-workers were congratulated on the success attending their efforts for the Chinese population.

Another Xmas Festival.

The members of the juvenile department of the Young People's Christian Temperance Union were treated last evening, through the generosity of the W. C. T. U., to their share of the festivities of the season. The superintendents of the order, Mrs. Southwick and Mrs.
Simpson were assisted, on the occasion, by Mrs. Dr. Gray. A well laden tree had been prepared, during the day, in the parlors of Fort street Church. Santa Claus was efficiently personated by Mr. T. S.
Southwick whose former residence in Manitoba, qualified him to act well the part of an arrival from the region of snow and frost, the home of the mythical patron saint of every yuletade festival. Festoons and bouquets decorated the room in a handsome manner. The young people took part in the songs and were aided by the tones of the elegant piano, presided at by Mrs. Simpson, and which on this, as on many other occasions, was made to enhance the feast of reason and flow of soul.

More interesting of all to the little folks were the trophies of enlistment in the army of sobriety, borne away by them in the form of presents from their kind friends and patrons.
The efforts made by the ladies on behalf of these future citizens of the country reflect honor upon themselves and will, in time, be gratefully remembered by the recipients.
